

CONTENTS

APRIL 2010
VOLUME 100 • NUMBER 4

---

LAND MATTERS | 25

---

LETTERS | 27

---

RIPRAP | 34

A green wall rises up at the Vancouver airport, a London exhibition gets to the roots of deforestation, LAM can now be read on your iPhone, and a vacant lot in Philadelphia speaks a new pattern language.

Edited by Linda McIntyre

---

TECHNOLOGY | 40

Foul Weather Fields

Natural playing surfaces get heated.

By Tim Newcomb

---

PLANNING | 48

America's Ecocity

An ambitious master plan for San Francisco's Treasure Island aims to replace the former naval base with a sustainable, transit-oriented community. Will the actual development be as "green" as the plans?

By Daniel Jost, ASLA

---

PLANTS | 54

Two in One

Shrubs with multicolored foliage can be accents in the garden.

By Marty Wingate

---

CENTENNIAL | 70

Planting at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition

*As part of a yearlong celebration of its 100th volume, Landscape Architecture is republishing excerpts from its first issue. By James Frederick Dawson

---

DIALOGUES | 78

From Past to Future

The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition's legacy is evident on the University of Washington campus.

By Brooks R. Kolb, ASLA, Anne Knight, and Jerome Arbes

---

LANDSCAPES OF COMPASSION | 94

Building Bosnia

*Therapeutic gardens cross the boundaries of a Balkanized society. By Daniel Winterbottom, ASLA

Creating An Urban Oasis

A new hybrid urban landscape gives fresh momentum to a city's renewal.

By George Hazelrigg, ASLA
116

---

RESIDENTIAL DESIGN | 106

Calling a Bluff

*A Chicago-area landscape architect seeks to stabilize and restore a degraded slope—by removing all the trees. By Adam Rego Arvidson, ASLA

---

BOOKS | 128

---

PRODUCT PROFILES | 130

---

DISPLAY AD INDEX | 136

---

BUYER'S GUIDE INDEX | 137

---

CRITIC AT LARGE | 160

Odd Couple

Are good projects the result of good design or good construction (or both)? Two new Seattle streets offer some answers.

By Mark Hinshaw